The Community Economic Development Fund (CED) provides support to eligible localities for economic development activities, particularly projects that create employment opportunities for low- and moderate-income persons. The nature of the financial assistance available varies depending on the economic strength of the locality, which is categorized as Distressed, Transitional, or Competitive. Units of local government in non-entitlement localities are the only eligible recipients of VCDBG funding. Localities may partner with planning district commissions, nonprofit organizations and other entities to undertake project activities.
